BREWSTER CARRIES COUNTY BY 2,438

FOUR DEMOCRATS ON COUNTY TICKET WERE ELECTED

GREAT MANY SCRATCHES

Job. Clardy, Robertson and Rathbun, Democrats, Won—Curl and Smith Were Elected

Winners In County

R. R. Brewster, for senator by 2438.

Sam A. Baker for state superintendent by 623.

Conway Elder for supreme court division by 321.

Edward Highbee and Francis M. Hayward for supreme court division No. 2.

Charles L. Faust for congress by 552.

John M. Dawson for circuit judge by 5504.

William Job for representative by 14.

Judge E. T. Bailey for presiding judge by 508.

Charles E. Walker for North district judge by 263.

Charles S. Armstrong for judge of south district by 708.

O. L. Curl for prosecuting attorney by 785.

Fred W. Smith for county clerk by 1101.

Virgil L. Rathbun for circuit clerk by 1031.

Mrs. Mamie E. Clardy for recorder by 2356.

Judge Jesse F. Robertson for probate judge by 1081.

There were several surprises at the election held in Nodaway County yesterday. The tremendous vote secured by R. R. Brewster over Senator James A. Reed, Brewster carrying the county by 2,438 votes, was a big surprise. Several Republican leaders before the election predicted Brewster would carry the county by 1,000 or more but none of them expected his vote would reach such proportion.

While Brewster was carrying the county by a big vote, Charles L. Faust for congress only carried the county by 552 votes.

On the county tickets, the Democrats elected William Job for representative by 14, Virgil L. Rathbun for circuit clerk, Mrs. Mamie E. Clardy for recorder, and Judge Jesse F. Robertson for probate judge. The official count and the absentee ballots might change Job's vote to a less number or a greater number.

The Republicans re-elected Judge E. T. Bailey for presiding judge of the county and Charles E. Walker for judge of the county court from the North district. Charles S. Armstrong won for judge of the county court from south district.

Dr. O. L. Curl, formerly pastor of the First M. E. Church of this city, was elected for prosecuting attorney. Dr. Curl resigned from the ministry to make the race for prosecuting attorney. He had intended leaving the ministry to enter the practice of law before becoming a candidate for this office. Dr. Curl came to Maryville about two years ago as pastor of the First M. E. Church.

Fred W. Smith won easily his re-election as county clerk over Mrs. Cora Bell Clary.

There was more scratching at yesterday's election than ever before at any election held here. Brewster carried the county by 2438 while Mrs. Clardy, Democrat, carried the county by 2,356, making a change of over 4,700 votes. The Republican state ticket carried the county from 321 to over 500, while Faust carried the county by 552.

Reed carried only five precincts in the county, being South Independence, Jefferson Northwest, Jefferson Northeast, Jefferson South, and North Grant. Brewster carried Maryville over Reed by 805.

The issue in Missouri this time was more involved than it has been for years.

Reed openly espoused a modification of the Volstead (?) act, while Brewster was as outspoken in his demand for strict enforcement of the statute. Denunciation by Reed of the Ku Klux Klan and his effort to curry votes among those prejudiced against this organization in Missouri also colored the voting.

The fact that former President Woodrow Wilson, in a letter to Missouri newspapers early last spring had denounced Reed and repudiated his record in the senate, had weight in the voting. Reed's opponents made the best of this circumstance while Reed appealed to the anti-Wilson in Missouri Democracy to rally to his support.

Our first experience with the blanket ballot, as well as the fact that a nineteen-issue constitutional amendment ballot also had to be voted, made returns unusually slow in coming in. The great amount of scratching also delayed the counting of the votes. North Lincoln, Nodaway and Washington precincts were not reported until nearly 4 o'clock this morning.

Many of the precincts were unable to complete the count for the amendments last night.

The total votes for senator was 9,852, for congress 10,072 and for state representative 10,074. This would indicate there were about 200 votes who did not vote for either Reed or Brewster.

The total vote at the presidential election two years ago was 12,500. Nearly 2,500 voters then did not vote at yesterday's election.

SECOND AND FOURTH WARDS STILL COUNTING BALLOTS.

The Second Ward and Fourth Ward in Maryville are still counting this afternoon the amendment ballots voted yesterday. Second ward will complete their work early this afternoon, while the fourth ward will be in late tonight.

The judges and clerks of election in Fourth ward stopped counting the votes at about 3 o'clock this morning. They went back to work after a few hours sleep and have been busy counting since.

There are many election judges and clerks who say today they will not act as such officials any more. Nearly all of them worked all night. These officials get $3 and as many expressed it for two days' work.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Gillam and Mrs. Forrest T. Gillam went to St. Joseph this morning to spend the day.

REED RE-ELECTED; STATE TICKET SAFE

LEADING BREWSTER BY 51,461 VOTES.

KANSAS CITY WAS CLOSE

So Far Reed Has Carried Jackson County by 1,300—St. Louis Went for Reed by About 40,000.

St. Louis, Nov. 8.—Senator James A. Reed, this afternoon was leading his Republican opponent by 51,461 votes and his re-election is practically assured.

Reed also swung the entire Democratic state ticket along with him, giving his party the State Superintendent of Schools, seven seats in the house and apparently a Democratic legislature.

In the state 2,755 precincts out of 3,875 gave Reed 371,898, and Brewster 320,437.

Kansas City proper, that had been expected to give Reed a big majority has so far turned in a majority of 305. The county gave Brewster 58,527, Reed, 59,876.

It was estimated Reed will carry St. Louis by about 40,000.

St. Louis, Nov 8.—Early returns today from three-fourths of the state shows that Senator James A. Reed has been re-elected by about a 50,000 majority. Democratic Headquarters in St. Louis claim he will carry St. Louis by 45,000.

Two Republican congressmen, Dyer and Newton and Harry B. Hawes, Democratic, have been elected to the lowers branch of congress.

Gex, Sr., of Graham, and C. H. Coe of Maryville, is a person of unsound mind and incapable of managing his own affairs. Eighteen jurors were summoned and twelve will be selected from that number.

Judge Craig in addition to representing himself has W. G. Sawyers and Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. McCaffrey. The complaints are represented by A. F. Harvey. There are several witnesses in the hearing which is before Judge Jesse F. Robertson of the probate court.

HOPKINS TO HAVE PIG AND CALF CLUB NEXT YEAR

Assured at Meeting Yesterday—To Be Held During the Livestock And Corn Show

The Hopkins Livestock and Corn Show which was successfully held in September of this year will be held again next year. The scope of the show will be enlarged and the pig and calf club will be included in next year's show. This was practically decided yesterday when county farm agent Roy A. Kinnaird, and W. A. Berg met with C. E. Donlin, Tomothy Moorehouse and Mr. Young, directors of the club.

The work of the pig and calf club in other places were explained and the matter will be taken up and officially acted upon by the entire Fair Board. Those in charge say that there is a very attractive list of premiums for the new pig and calf club.

The Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Burnett of Ravenwood were visitors in Maryville today.

EAST DEMOCRATIC; SMITH IN NEW YORK

SENATOR LODGE RE-ELECTED; CALDER AND FRELINGHUYSEN DEFEATED.

SEN. TOWNSEND LOST OUT

Johnson Re-Elected for California; Kansas Democratic; Next Congress Republican Slightly.

New York, Nov. 8—Senator Calder, Republican, this afternoon acknowledged defeat in yesterday's election for the U. S. Senate and declared the results, "inevitable." When asked for the reasons for the apparently Democratic landslide there he said, "Oh what's the use of post-morteming." Calder had voted against the Soldier bonus and was an ardent supporter for the tariff.

The election of Alfred E. Smith, Democrat for governor over Governor Miller, Republican, by an overwhelming majority.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 8—Simeon D. Fess is leading the veteran Senator Atlee Pomerene, Democrat, by about 7,000 votes with approximately 500,000 votes yet to be counted. The democrats have not yet conceded defeat but admit that "things look bad."

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican, according to practically complete returns is re-elected by approximately 1800 votes.

The unofficial vote in the state gives Lodge 416,934, and his democratic opponent 415,135.

Upon the referendum vote the people of the state voted heavily against moving picture censorship and strongly in favor of the prohibition laws.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 8.—Senator Hiram Johnson has been given the greatest majority in his long career in political life and has carried the entire ticket with him. It is estimated that he will win by at least 300,000 plurality. The Republican candidate, Richards, for Governor, has been elected over Thos. Woolvorne, Democrat, on the face of returns by a 200,000 majority.

Newark, N. J., Nov. 8.—Governor Edwards, Democrat, running upon a wet platform, has defeated Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen for the U. S. Senate with a plurality in excess of 85,000 on the face of incomplete returns. With 2,120 in from the 2,464 precincts, Edwards is given a vote of 400,095, and Frelinghuysen, 318,576.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 8.—A. V. Donhancy, Democrat, former state auditor, has apparently defeated Carmi. A. Thompson, Cleveland business man and friend of President Harding, for governor by a majority of from 40,000 to 50,000.

New York, Nov. 8—Another great upset in yesterday's election was in Michigan where its traditional Republicanism was apparently defeated. Ferris, Democrat, has apparently defeated Senator Chas. E. Townsend for the United States Senate by about 100,000. This will give the Democrats another seat which they had not counted on.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 8.—In 1539 precincts out of the total of 2536 in the state, John M. Davis, Democratic candidate for governor was leading his Republican opponent, W. Y. Morgan by 4590 votes and was holding his own in the rural districts.

On the face of the returns now, his majority is being estimated at between seven and eight thousand. Morgan's home county returned a vote against him of 800 majority and he likewise lost Governor Allen's home district.

The soldier bonus has apparently carried by a substantial majority.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Woodrow Wilson, former president and leader of the Democratic party, was "deeply gratified" by the decision of the American people in Tuesday's election, when seen at his home today.

The former president showed "great interest" in the election returns as they poured into his home last night and today, he is busily engaged in reading telegrams from Democratic leaders all over the country.

EAST DEMOCRATIC; SMITH IN NEW YORK

It is said that the former president showed greatest interest in last night's returns than he had at the previous election.

Baltimore, Mr., Nov. 8.—Joseph F. France, Republican, has apparently defeated Wm. C. Bruce, Democratic candidate for the governorship, by an overwhelming majority in the state that may reach 20,000.

He carried Baltimore by 7,965 and it is estimated about 12,000 in the rural districts.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 8—Figures in yesterday's election apparently show the election of Zach. H. Harris, Democrat of Blackwell with a lead of about 1200 votes over his opponent in the race for U. S. Senate.

On the face of returns, Alice Robertson, first woman representative in the house, will not be returned.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8—Officials of the Harding administration, disappointed by the sweeping and unexpected heavy Democratic vote of yesterday, sought solace in the fact that the Democratic tide was not sufficient to give them control of either branch of congress.

Although the Republicans had expected to lose a considerable number of seats in the House, on the face of incomplete returns it is shown that the Republican majority in both the house and senate will be whittled down to a point where strict and unaccustomed discipline will be necessary to maintain their party whip.

Returns tabulated at Democratic headquarters indicate that 179 Democrats, 176 Republicans and one socialist had been elected.

The returns from about twenty states are semi-complete and uncertain.

The Democratic National Committee stated today that the next congress would be Republican by a "small majority" with the Senate Republican by about twenty votes and the house Republican by a small majority.

The National Republican Committee headquarters refused to make any comment on yesterday's election.

New York, Nov. 8—Later returns from the hotly contested races emphasized the magnitude of the Democratic gain in Tuesday's election.

At 10:45 this morning it was certain that the republican majority in the Senate of twenty-four would be reduced to twelve and possibly ten.

Indications point to the election of Republican Senators in New Jersey, Michigan, West Virginia, Delaware and probably and to the loss by the Democrats of Pomerene in Ohio and Hitchcock in Nebraska.

GREAT PREPARATIONS FOR TRENTON-MARYVILLE GAME

That Will Be Played This Friday—Chamber of Commerce Urges Good Support

Great preparations are being made for the coming football game with Trenton this Friday at the College gridiron by the Maryville High School. The Trenton game is the big game of the year for the Maryville team and a friendly rivalry exists between the two schools. In the recent years Maryville has been defeated twice by their opponents but this year a revenge is to be expected.

Both the teams have closed a successful season and are contenders for the district honors.

The Maryville squad have been having extra practice in preparation for the game and all men are in condition. Night practice at the gymnasium has been held this week.

The streets have been painted with signs to the effect of 'Triming Trenton' and the students are full of pep.

In regard to the Maryville business men closing their stores for the game, it has been deemed inadvisable, but the Chamber of Commerce has today sent out a letter to its members urging their support to this game.

A portion of the letter follows:

In order to back our "Tome Team" in a financial way—and they need it—and put the "Winning Spirit" in them that nothing but the "Home Folks" gather around the girdiron while the game is in progress can do, we want to urge everyone who can possibly arrange to attend the game between our High School and Trenton next Friday November 10th to do so.

This is the game of the season, because upon it hangs the chance of the championship title for 1922.

Let's go, and go strong, and help our school win this game.

Yours for the boys and girls of today, who will be the men and women of tomorrow.

Maryville Chamber of Commerce.

A large crowd of rooters are reported as coming on a special from Trenton to witness the contest. This squad will be composed of sixteen men and the coach, Barnes.

Armistice Day Committee's Address on "Just Yesterday"

Following is an address prepared by the Armistice day committee under the title, "Just for Yesterday:"

Just Yesterday

Will your memory carry you back for just a moment to the tense times of but just four years ago, when there was no such thing as peace in the world—when the nations of the world grappled in a death struggle to determine the salvation or destruction of a civilization which had been hundreds of centuries in building. In the four years of battle carnage that had raged in every quarter of the globe, 7,500,000 men fighting under thirty-eight flags, had given their lives in battle. Diseases that baffled the best of medical science had cost humanity untold millions of other lives.

Alongside the millions under the British Union Jack, the Tri-Color of France, and the multi-colored flags of the allied nations, fought the valiant boys of General Pershing, carrying the Star-Spangled Banner into the farthest corners of the glob. There were upwards of 2,000,000 of the flower of America who had braved hitherto unthought of perils of the sea to plant our flag in England, in France, in Italy, in Siberia, in Russia—aye, everywhere that the battle raged. With those brave millions had gone 25,000 of the yet more heroic womanhood of the land to attend, even on the battlefields, the wounds and sufferings of their brothers, and to carry sunshine where the sun shone not. Every city, village and hamlet—yes, most every family too—felt the cruel touch of war, and the only unison was that of the prayer for a victorious peace.

Suffered Slightly in Comparison

America, though, but slightly suffered the pangs of war. With a battle-death list of but 50,000 from a alnd of 100,000,000 great as our grief was, can we fully know the awful suffering of a nation of 39,000,000 who pand the price with the lives of 1,400,000 who died upon the field of honor! Ah, in that land that was our battle-ground, not a home was left untouched—the somber raiment of mourning took the place of fad and style, and every mantel was honored with the crepe-adorned likeness of some father, son or brother. A land of laughter and enjoyment, whose every want was to love and to live, had forgotten and forsaken all save La Patrie. A people who cared only for the song and the dance, had heard naught but martial airs and the rumble of hobnail shoes.

It cannot then be difficult to imagine the outburst of joy that greeted the news on November 11, 1918, that Marshal Foch's terms for an armistice had been accepted by the Boche delegates. And little wonder it is that that news spread like wild fire from his private car side-tracked at the battle-scarred station of Rethondoes. Little wonder too, that an emotional people who had for four years been forced to a stoicism of a variety that would inspire Spartan envy, should momentarily became the hilarious maniacs which victory made them. IA naturally osculating people went on a real kissing spree. Men and women left their tasks, cafe stocks become public property; young and old, rich and poor, forgot all save that the war was through. In the cities, the wide boulevards became a surging mass of hysterical celebrants. Taxi cabs stood upside down, and there was no transportation except that for the uniformed heros carried aloft on shoulders that had known only the weight of war. There was not a noise-making contrivance in all France but it was put to the severest test. Pandemonium reigned and joy was king. In the country, plows stood in the field, and the implements of harvest were dropped in place while farmer and villager hurried for the latest communique. It was difficult to judge which was the more popular, the cafe or the church, for there was but one extent in every mind that of giving expression to the supreme joy in every heart.

But the Dream Came True

The soldier awakened but slowly, for it was an unbelievable dream come true. Once the realization came to him that his task was done, that he might now return to his loved ones, to peace and happiness, there was no control—within him or without—of his joy. It is said that the happiness was so complete that from only one doughboy's throat came the cry "When do we eat?"

Can we forget? No, we cannot forget the meaning of Armistice day! Let us ever remember that the most joyful day of our generation was Nov. 11, 1918, and ever observe Armistice day in the same spirit with which it was celebrated four years ago—just yesterday.

WE FOUGHT AND BIED IN VAIN

AND SPENT OUR BLOOD FOR NOTHING

SAYS REV. J.A. COOPER

In Armistice Day Address at College This Morning—A Program at Assembly

"The tradegy of war is the fact that we spent our blood for nothing. Even now Europe is planning openly for another war and they are doing so as never before. We fought and died in vain."

This was the leading thought of the address by the Rev. J. A. Cooper this morning to the College students at their Armistice Day program.

An interesting program was given. The address of the morning was made by the Rev. Joseph Cooper, of the Baptist church, who spoke on "The Soldier and Peace."

At the beginning of the program three members of the staff of the State Teachers College annual, The Tower, made short speeches in regard to the sale of the annuals and the competition between the classes. The election of the Tower Queen, the Most Popular Boy, the Wittiest Student and the Peppiest Student, was also explained. The election of these people will be held this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

Several songs were sung by the student body and a tableau of America was presented. In the tableau Miss Nellie Moody represented America. She was dressed in white and wrapped in an American flag. Two small children were at her feet.

The remainder of the hour was devoted to the address by the Rev. Mr. Cooper. He made a strong appeal for the soldier who has returned from the front injured and lessened in strength. He said, "War psychology is false. Men should never be made to do what they cannot comprehend." The soldier was drilled as a machine. He was drilled to do as he was commanded and was not to think for himself.

In speaking of the fact that some men came back from the war with their incentive seemingly gone Mr. Cooper said, "You and I cannot turn our thinking over to someone else and not suffer by it. When a man has taken away from him the right to think it is hard for him, after a time, to get back into normal channels."

"If the dead of the past war were to march by this institution twenty abreast and in close formation it would take six months for the column to pass by. If they were to march in line of file so you could get a good look at them it would take ten years."

"More money has been spent for war in the past four years than has been spent by governments in the history of the world for improvements and benefits. In the past war more than $300 for every man, woman and child was spent."

Mr. Cooper's address was well received. He spoke eloquently and his audience was exceedingly attentive.

BEARCAT-TARKIO GAME IS POSTPONED TO MON. NOV.20

Change Was Made Because of Conflict With State Teachers Meeting at Kansas City

The football game between the State Teachers College football team and the team from Tarkio College, which was to have been played in Maryville on Friday November 17, has been postponed until the following Monday, November 20 because of the meeting of the Missouri State Teachers Association which will be held at Kansas City November 15-18.

The report was circulated that this game had been postponed indefinitely but this is false.

The new arrangement will make the Bearcats play two games in one week. Meeting Tarkio on Monday will be the first and the game with Westminster on the 25th will be the second.

Stickers for this weeks game of the State Teachers College and Maryville high school football teams are visible today. The high school is sporting tags with "Trim Trenton Truly" on them and the College students have green and white stickers bearing the words, "Beat Warrensburg."

MAYOR THINKS WATER WORKS COAL PILE IS ON FIRE.

Mayor F. P. Robinson said this morning that he thought the coal pile of anthracite coal at the city water works was on fire. It cannot be definitely ascertained but sounds in the bins point to the starting of a combustion.

If this is true it will be necessary for a gang of men to move the whole pile of about 150 tons and locate the fire.

DOUGLAS HAS GOOD PROGRAM

AT COMMUNITY MEETING LAST NIGHT

SERVE BOUNTIFUL LUNCH

Of Ham and Chicken Sandwiches, Pie and Coffee—Agricultural Pictures Are Shown

One of the best programs one would want to see was put on by the children of Douglas school last night where Mrs. Vesta Buck teaches. There wasn't a moments hesitation between numbers and every student did his part well.

The following is the program rendered:

Song, "The Wind"—Gladys Partridge and Irene Gallagher.

Recitation, "Thanksgiving"—Jennie Mozingo.

Dialogue, "The President of 1952"—Gladys Partridge, Austin Coffee.

Reading "The Flag"—Emery Force.

After the program the film "Agriculture in Nodaway County" was shown by the Chamber of Commerce and then a bountiful lunch was served by the ladies of the Douglas Homemakers Club consisting of, ham, and chicken sandwiches, pickles, all varieties of pie, (every one D. E. Hotchkin's favorite) and coffee.

Douglas school had a beautiful float Nodaway County School Day representing the Hawaiians. Many questions were asked as to when pictures of the school parade will be shown and the teachers, patrons and students made it very plain that the Chamber of Commerce had a standing invitation to come back as soon as the Nodaway County school film was ready to be shown. Dates for Agricultural film as well are made in the order of the request.

Any open date the Chamber of Commerce has is given when the request is made and dates now are made up to the latter part of January. Nodaway County's fame is steadily increasing on account of her number of community meetings which are noted for their friendliness and good cheer.

Three schools will be filmed today. At the request of Mt. Tabor school, north of Elmo, and Excelsior school, west of Hopkins, and Glendale, west of Pickering, Superintendent Somerville and Ralph Marcell started out this morning to make pictures for the Nodaway County School film, for these schools.

There is going to be a wonderful variety of "stunts" put on by the rural schools of Nodaway County which will not only show a great variety of work done by the students, but will demonstrate the possibilities and make perhaps the most interesting feature that can be added to the fine entertainments put on by the communities of Nodaway County.

Mr Somerville reports that the rural schools are fully aware not only of the educational advantages of this film but of the fact that Nodaway County is taking an advanced step in education by visualizing school activities at each school.

LOCAL TEACHERS ON THE PROGRAM

OF STATE TEACHERS ASSOCIATION MEETING

S. T. C. WILL NOT CLOSE

And All of the Faculty Will Be Unable To Go to Kansas City

Ten members of the faculty of the State Teachers College have notified President Uel W. Lamkin of their intention of attending the meeting of the Missouri State Teachers Association which will be held at Kansas City November 15 to 18. These teachers are Misses Dow, Winn, Franken and Hopkins and Mr. Miller, Dean G. H. Colbert, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. Loomis and Mr. Leeson.

Mr. Lamkin said this morning that it had not been decided whether it will be possible to allow all of these instructors to go as the College, contrary to a report, will not be dismissed.

At 6:30 o'clock on the evening of November 17, Friday, there will be a State Teachers College of Maryville banquet at the Baltimore Hotel. Several of the organizations represented at the meeting will have banquets and dinners during the meeting.

The State Teachers College will be well represented among the officers of the different departments and in the list of speakers.

President Uel W. Lamkin is on the committee on the Educational Article in the Constitution and C. A. Hawkins is a member of the legislative committee.

Four of the local instructors are chairmen of committees, one is a vice chairman and one a secretary. Bert Cooper is chairman of the department of agriculture, Miss Olive S. De Luce, chairman of the Fine Arts division, C. E. Wells, chairman of the Library division and Bert W. Loomis, chairman of the Department of Special Classes.

GARDNER FOR GOVERNOR IN 1924

DEMOCRATS MUST DRAFT HIM AS A CANDIDATE

OTHERS ARE MENTIONED

Now Up to Democrats to Get Back Into Line and Await Action of Convention of 1924

By A. T. Edmonston

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 8—With the warmest campaign which has ever been waged in Missouri closed and the election results known, it is now up to the democrats who worked overtime to defeat Senator James A. Reed to get back into line behind Jeffersonian and Jackson doctrines and principles and await the action of the next national convention which meets in the summer of 1924 to formulate and promulgate the next platform of the "Only Reliable Party" which, true to its colors and traditions has adopted the "Goddess of Liberty" as its emblem and symbol.

It was a glorious fight that the democratic nominees, from Senator James A. Reed down to constables, waged. The next nation-wide battle for supremacy is ahead two years hence and a united harmonious democracy can then easily sweep the nation.

Gardner for Governor, 1924

Missouri already has a standard bearer for the nomination for Governor in Frederick D. Gardner who at the helm for the four years proceding the last return to power in the state of the "mysterious stranger" with his powerful backing, the overwhelming negro and Ku Klux votes of the state. These two "know-nothing" forces exist in Missouri and, united, form a tremendous combination hard to defeat but which can be overwhelmed by a union of the intelligent, free-thinking hundred-per-cent American voting men and women. That religion and religious questions have no place in politics is the opinion of all the iconoclasts of the land. It is probably also well to add to this assertion that a hundred-per-cent American need not be a citizen by birth, but includes the huge naturalized aggregation—everyone, father, mother, daugher and son, who first saw the light of day elsewhere and journeyed to this country where the rule of the people is everything and where it is necessary to determine by popular vote every four years what doctrines and politics shall sway until the next judgment day.

Gardner must be Drafted

While former Governor Gardner has not suggested, hinted or intimated to anyone that he will be a candidate for the next democratic nomination for Governor, a belief has possession of his friends that he is the man for the place. The clamor that he once more leave private life and his business to make the race will be so tremendous and far reaching in 1924 that he will have to give heed and once again make personal sacrifices and return to public life.

So let it be, says that portion of Missouri democracy which is anxious to cut down state taxes, and relieve Missouri of the overburdening load of nepotism which has filled all state departments now under the control of the "gops" in the Capitol with wives, laughters, brothers, sons, nieces and nephews, not to count or consider brother-in-laws, sister-in-laws, cousins, nieces and aunts. Never before in the history of Missouri have there been as many useless salary-drawing clerks in the statehouse at Jefferson City. They toil not and neither do they spin, and many are thus idle for the sufficient reason that there is nothing for them to do. Every pay day finds state warrant in readiness for these pie-counter "boys" and "girls" and they are the first in line at the office of the State Treasurer early that particular morning to draw their monthly stipends.

"Go to 'Gops' while the going's good for it will be otherwise after the close of 1924; get all you can and then get some more," proclaims the wise sage of Osage.

For Lieutenant-Governor

It is presaged that State Senator Carter M. Buford of Ellington, Reynolds County, Southeast Missouri, who was nominated and made the race for the same berth two years ago, will again seek the nomination on the democratic ticket for Lieutenant-Governor. Te easily won the nomination in 1920 and only went down in defeat for the reason that the entire country, with the aid of the heavy negro vote and the support of easily beguiled democrats who "did not know then, and voted wrong, but know different now," went republican. If Senator Buford does not run then there is former Representative G. L. Joyce of Linn County. Friends of the latter announced a day or two ago that they could lure him into making the race for the nomination for Lieutenant-Governor if he is given a clear field. He is now practicing law in that county and lives at Buckner. Then, also, there is former Lieutenant Governor and former State Senator Wallace Crossley of Warrensburg, Johnson County, a newspaper editor and publisher, scholar and raconteur, well known and popular in every section of the state, including the city of St. Louis, the badly shattered "gop" stronghold of the state. If former Governor Gardner does not run for the big state honor in 1924 it is thought that Senator Crossley can be lured into that race.

For Secretary-of-State there is plenty of available material in the rank and file of Missouri democracy. John L. Sullivan who held that position for four years and was the party nominee in 1920 to succeed himself until the votes were counted on election day, may again seek the nomination. Then there is Judge T. Speed Mosby of Jefferson City who made the race for one of the democratic nominations for Supreme Court Judge and was counted out on primary day with six or seven other party men aspiring to the same two honors. Omar Gray, Editor and publisher of the Sturgeon (Boone County) Leader may be persuaded to toss his chapeau into this arena. This will be easily accomplished if former Governor Gardner consents to becoming democracy's candidate for Governor.

Blair for Supreme Court Judge

Supreme Court Judges, state senators, congressmen, Circuit Judges, and other places are also to be filled in 1924. It is figured that Judge James T. Blair, now a democratic Supreme Court Judge will again make the race for the supreme Court nomination in 1924. For Attorney-General there is Willis H. Meredith of Poplar Bluff, Butler county who won the democratic nomination in 1920 through defeating former State Senator Mark A. McGruder of Sedalia. If Attorney Meridith does not run it may be that Attorney-McGruder will again become a candidate for this democratic glory.

SNODGRASS REPLIES TO FATHER FELIX

IN A LETTER TO DEMOCRAT-FORUM TODAY

HARSH WORDS FEATURE

Denial of Entering Into Long Winded Tirade of Catholic Church

To the Democrat-Forum:

The Democrat-Forum's report of my address last Sunday night has inspired the Holy Father of Conception to throw up a lot of slanderous invectives and insulting guffaws about me, and the part I have had in the present Senatorial Campaign. I wish to make this friendly reply:

The Democrat-Forum's report of my adress which was not given verbatim but which is substantially correct follows:

"I was somewhat surprised at Father Felix; I rather felt that his remarks were improper. Father Felix said that anyone could attend the Catholic churches in Maryville for twenty-five years and never hear politics mentioned.

"I could go to their church for a thousand years and never hear many things that ought to be mentioned. Who will deny that the Catholic church is not a powerful political machine? It is lined up solidly for Jim Reed and the Protestants for R. R. Brewster. I havn't talked to a Protestant minister who is going to vote for Reed."

I wish to call the attention of the "fair minded men and women of this great commonwealth" to the spirit of my article and the spirit of the Holy Father's article yesterday. I am perfectly willing to let them decide which one is "pulsing through with the utter absence of the spirit of Christianity."

I wish to say further, that I did not enter into a "long winded tirade against the Catholic church." My reference to the Holy Father and the Catholic church was a very small incident in my address and took about two minutes of my almost two hours speech. I want to say that I have no scrap with the Catholics. Many of them are among my best friends here and elsewhere. They have a right to their religious convictions as I have to mine. But I do say that the Roman Hierarchy wields its influence and power in matters of Government, and I can furnish the statements of Catholic papers and officials by the score to prove it. Surely my statement Sunday night, as reported in the Democrat-Forum, was not of a kind to warrant such a mess of rotten invective as this high "gentleman of the cloth" has seen fit to hurl at me.

As to the charge, "Slander, insult, and unproven statement seem to be his only stock in trade," I simply say that I have made no statement that I cannot afford abundant proof for and in fact the proofs have already been given but, of course, my critic was not there to hear them.

I wish to be perfectly fair to all, but I honestly believe that the Father's article was inspired more by my attack on Reed than by the little reference I made to the Catholic church. The wets were lined up solidly for Reed and the drys for Brewster. I lined up with the drys and in fighting the dry cause, I tried to be a real hero. This High and Holy Father, no doubt, lined up with his brother Priests for Reed. I know that my proven statements in this campaign have been bitter pills for the wets in this county. My fight was made at a tremendous cost. Noone knows better than myself, the sinister influences that have been brought to bear to get me to compromise the issue and close my mouth. But there is not money enough on this earth, or blood curdling, nerve wracking threats this side of perdition to force me into a truckling subserviancy to veneered hypocrisy. I cannot forfeit my soul, nor will I be untrue to my duty as an American citizen, by neglecting to line up with the forces of righteousness when a great moral issue is involved—as was the case in this campaign.

The Angelic curse of Meroz in the days when she refused to show her colors and fight for Isreal, is the curse of every American citizen when he refuses to fight even unto death for God and humanity.

The election is over and this campaign is a matter of history. The wet candidate has been elected, but not by the vote of Nodaway County. It is likely that never in the history of our County has any candidate secured such an overwhelming vote as did Brewster, the dry man. As to what the people here think of our fight, can be determined by that vote, the opposition of the wets including my priestly critic from Conception to the contrary not-with-standing.

Yes, I paid the price. It may have cost me some personal friendships, I hope not. I trust that no-one will doubt my sincerest honesty in what I did, whatever their opinions might have been. Now that it is over I am willing to abide by the results. I am for America not for America's sake but for the world's sake. I realize that no representative in Washington can render his best service only as the people hold up their hands, and this I shall endeavor to do with everyone of them from President Harding down, in all things that I believe to be right.

Yours for loyalty to God and Truth,
R. E. Snodgrass.

NOV. 7 BALANCE $2327

As Shown by Accepted Financial Report—New Light at 13th and Mulberry.

A petition was presented signed by nine residents for the erection of street light at 13th and Mulberry streets and for a fire plug at the same place. The light was granted but the fire plug refused, because of a lack of money in that fund.

A building permit was granted to the Standard Oil Company for the building of their filling station and driveway. This permit was not granted when the work began.

Chief of Police Tilton reported the collection of $125.35 in fines.

The city collector's report for October showed a collection of $6.48 in current taxes and delinquent taxes amounting to $11.97. This report was small because this year's tax books did not open until the first of November.

"Complete Satisfaction All Around"

—Says George Kunkel of Lone Valley School

WHY ONE SHOULD TRADE AT MONTGOMERY-CUMMINS CLOTHING COMPANY

One reason why we should trade at Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Company is because they keep the very best of clothing. Their suits are made of the best quality of material. The dyes are of the very best so that their clothing does not fade or lose it color easily.

Another reason is that their suits are well made so that they fit the form perfectly, and give one the appearance of being well dressed on all occasions if they are wearing "Best Ever Clothing." The seams are double stitched and guaranteed not to rip but if they should rip or the suit is otherwise unsatisfactory, take it back and they will gladly replace it or refund your money.

Then too, when you go to Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Company, the clerks are always ready to wait on you. They try in every way to please you, and to sell you the clothing that suits you best. But if you do not want it, they will not insist that you take it. More over they are courteous to every one who comes in the store and treats them the same whether they are making a purchase or exchanging an article bought there before.

Another thing is that their place of business is conveniently located on Main Street, so if you have to wait while you are in town you are welcome to wait there.

To sum it all up we trade at Montgomery-Cummins Clothing Company because we get the best goods and the best service, and the greatest satisfaction all around.
